

To Whom It May Concern:

My personal relationship with Vanesa Wojtanowicz has been a long and rich one. I have known her since my freshman year of college in at Minnesota State University, Moorhead (or Moorhead State University as it was known then.) I met her through mutual friends and got to know her better through our shared membership in that university's Sci-Fi Club.

Vanesa's personality at that time struck me as a whimsical one, and creative. Through my years of friendship with her I have come to know her as well as assertive, determined, and hard working. She has gone through difficult times in her life, more than most her age would ever be expected to. Those trials have only served to strengthen her, however. She is probably the hardest-working person I know and also one of the most creative. Her artist's portfolio will tell you better than I could about her creativity as well as her talent.

I have not had the good fortune to have worked with Vanesa in any capacity for a great many years, and the time we worked together was a brief one. However, I am certain that hiring Vanessa Wojtanowicz in any capacity would be a wise decision. Her strengths are many and her boldness and creativity would be an asset to any position one would care to put her.

Sincerely,

Andrew Brown
Mankato, MN